

EBSCO*host* Full Text Journal Databases for Medical Institutions

EBSCO, the true intermediary for medical journals

- EBSCO offers the world's most complete access to full text medical journals by offering the ability to:
 - select and purchase individual e-journals and publisher packages
 - complement those purchases with EBSCO*host* full text databases, which round out library journal collections by adding access to many journals that were previously unattainable
- Full text databases are a necessary supplement to journal subscriptions, but they are not a viable replacement
- EBSCO*host* databases provide users with article-level linking from EBSCO*host* search results to online journal content through any platform
 - when EBSCO is used for e-journal subscriptions the maintenance of these links is automatic
