Welcome

In August 2016, the platform relaunched with a new design, fully responsive interface, and significant improvements. Start exploring great academic research with Taylor & Francis Online.

The platform has:

- A clean, intuitive and responsive user interface
- Enhanced discoverability
- Easy-to-use search and browse functionalities
- More than 2400+ journals available

Getting Started

Register and Sign in

We recommend registering on Taylor & Francis Online to get the most from the website. You can do this by clicking on 'Register' at the top of the page and entering your details.

The screenshot shows the Taylor & Francis Online registration page. The header includes the logo, navigation links for 'Log in', 'Register', and 'Cart', and a search bar. The main content area is titled 'Registration' and contains a form with the following fields: 'Your email address', 'Confirm email address', 'Your first name', 'Your last name', 'Your organisation', 'Select A Country', 'Password', and 'Confirm password'. There are checkboxes for 'I agree to the terms and conditions' and 'Taylor & Francis Group, part of Informa Group plc, respects your privacy. Please see our Privacy Policy for details of how we handle your personal information. By submitting this form, you agree that we may use your email address to send you offers and information about our related products and services, unless you indicate that you would prefer not to receive such information by ticking the following box.' Below the form is a CAPTCHA image with the text 'RETYPE THE CODE FROM THE PICTURE' and a 'Register' button. To the right of the form, there is a section titled 'Already have an account?' with a 'Log in now' button, and a section titled 'Institutional accounts' with contact information for support@tandfonline.com.

To use the platform after you register, simply sign in with your email address and password.

This feature is available on the right hand side of the article page, and it allows you to find popular articles that your peers are already reading that may be of interest to you.

Open Access

Taylor & Francis Online has a dedicated open access page which features videos on open access.

Altmetrics

For all articles published after January 2012, Altmetric data is viewable on individual article pages, simply by clicking on 'Metrics'. Within the 'Metrics' page, click on the Altmetric badge and see how people are engaging with research articles through mentions in newspapers, magazines, blogs, social media, policy documents, and post-publication peer review sites.

CrossMark

CrossMark, developed by CrossRef, is designed to help you quickly determine whether the document you're viewing is the most recent version, and whether it's the publisher-maintained copy. By applying CrossMark to our articles, Taylor & Francis is committing to maintain the content we publish and to alert readers to changes if and when they occur.

Simply click on the CrossMark logo on the article pages to get updates and verify authenticity.

Knowledge on the Move

Users can continue to access knowledge on the move. Taylor & Francis Online is now fully responsive across all pages on the site. This means that content flows intelligently into any tablet or mobile device, menus and actions are appropriate for each screen size, and the reading experience is delightful and familiar.

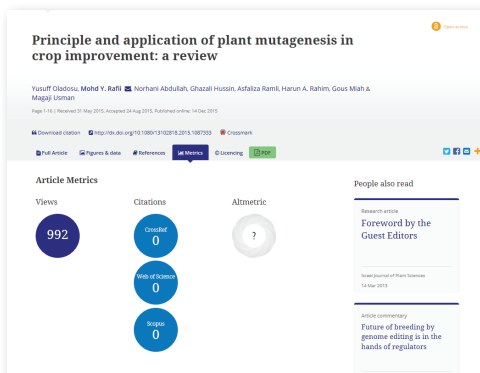

Toll-free Linking

Toll-free Linking gives you free access to Taylor & Francis journal articles that are referenced by articles published in the Taylor & Francis journals that you subscribe to. It also applies to all of our open access journals and all articles published open access under the open select model.

DataCite Linking

Authors are increasingly opting to submit their supporting data to a repository, and in many cases they're required to do so as a condition of their funding. We've now made that data more accessible through bi-directional linking that takes users from the article to the related data and back again.

The DataCite link has been added to article abstracts. Where an author has deposited data to a repository supported by DataCite, a link to the data will appear under the article abstract, and where an author has deposited data to multiple repositories, links to all repositories will appear in a pop-up.

Additional Citation Source

To more accurately reflect the true number of citations an article has received, figures from the Web of Science® and Scopus are displayed on Taylor & Francis Online, alongside the existing CrossRef citation counts. Article citation counts can differ between Web of Science®, CrossRef and Scopus.

When a citation count is available from the sources, it will display next to the article with the source identified on both table of contents pages and on article pages. Simply select 'Metrics' on the individual article page to view any citations.

Taylor & Francis Online: Key Features

For researchers
